Our Production

Modern equipment enables to avoid using colorants, preserving agents and artificial.

Short-time high-temperature processing with low temperature pressure conditions enables to save maximum useful vitamins and minerals contained in fresh fruits and berries.

Modern aseptic packaging from the leading global producers guarantees considerable storage time and convenience for distribution.

Sandora

Our Juices

- Freshly-pressed juice (fresh) – juices produced by physical and mechanical method from one or several kinds of fruits without further treatment.
- Reconstituted juice – juice created for direct use. The juice in production quantities is produced by reconstitution from the concentrate method:

Heat up for 40 seconds
till 100 degrees

Keep for
3-4 seconds

For 30 seconds cool down till room temperature

Pour in the pure water of precisely the same volume as evaporated before

- Nectar is obtained by mixing one or several kinds of concentrated juices or edible parts of ripe and fresh fruits with water, sugar or honey. Share of the fruit juice weight must be not less than 25-50%.
- Juice drink is the mixture of natural fruit juice not only with water and sugar but with citric acid as well. Fruit content in fruit juice drinks must be not less than 10%, and in vegetable ones – 40%.
- Fruit drink is the mixture of berries and fruits juices (or their juice concentrate), water and sugar (or glucose-fructose syrup). Besides, the juice share must be not less than 15%.

Remark: Concentrate is produced by direct pressing juice treatment. Neither sugar nor any other sweetening agents must not be added, they concentrate by high cooling (freezing).
